Fire Alarm.

At 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening fire was discovered in the workshop belonging to H. A. MacDonald at the upper end of Main street but the fire companies were summoned and the blaze was soon put out. The cause of the fire is supposed to have been a hot box in the boring machine. Shavings caught and the flame quickly filled the shop. It was the work of only a few minutes to subdue the fire and the building was uninjured.

Valuable Geologic Exhibit for School.

A valuable geologic exhibit has been given to the school recently by Miss Lydia C. Colburn. The exhibit consists of petrified forms, fossils and valuable stones. The specimens were disinterred by Miss Colburn's brother three hundred feet below the surface near Canyon City, Colo. They were in deposit with the skeleton of a prehistoric mastodon now in the museum of Yale. An exact size drawing of the lower foreleg bone of this huge animal accompanies the collection. The drawing is 5 feet high. The specimens of coral, the imprint of seashell and the sea plants, and the petrified clamshells etc. go to prove that the vast region now embracing the states of Colorado, California, New Mexico, Utah, Nebraska and Kansas millions of years ago was thousands of feet lower than it now is and the bed of an arm of the ocean.

COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION

Successful Meeting at Newport Last Week. New Officers.

The annual convention of the Orleans county Sunday school association was held at the Baptist church, Newport, September 14-15. Although the attendance was not large, twenty-seven out of the fifty-six schools in the county being represented, the interest shown in the subjects treated in the form of discussions bore witness to the earnestness of those present.

The convention was full of practical suggestions for any school, large or small. In the past few years, Sunday school has broadened in every phase and Orleans County must not be below the standard. The convention opened Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock with a praise service led by Rev. C. D. Lance of Newport. State secretary, Rev. H. A. Durfee D. D., outlined the work for the ensuing year. This was practically the same as former years with one exception, namely, that each county be entitled to the field secretary for one month in the year at the close of which the regular county convention be held, thus reducing the expenses by lessening the amount of travel for the secretary.

He explained the plans of the Vermont Sunday School Herald, the organ of the state association and urged all schools to keep in touch with the work through this medium. The work accomplished in the state this year has been gratifying and prospects are bright for the future. At 11:15 Dr. Durfee spoke on "The Elementary Department: its present problems and how to solve them," followed by a discussion. The new International graded lesson and the need of them was discussed.

Mrs. H. A. Clark went last week to Boston for medical treatment and will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. H. A. True of Somerville.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Drew went this morning to the state fair. From there they will go to Manchester, N. H., and Boston on a visiting and sight-seeing tour.

The W. C. T. U. food sale at the M. E. church vestry Saturday under the direction of Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Underwood was a success, netting $6 for the treasury.

The electric street light line has been extended down Bell Water avenue and two lights have been put in there and one has been put in front of the Catholic church.

Harley Wheeler has finished off an upstairs tenement in his house on Elm street and his father, Charles Wheeler of Orleans has moved there. Mr. Wheeler is also building a barn.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Barron took an automobile trip to Montpelier, Saturday to visit Mrs. Barron's aunt, Mrs. Percy Templeton. Mrs. E. W. Barron accompanied them to Hardwick.

Allen Shedd of Craftsbury spent a week with his nephew, A. A. Larabee, returning home Tuesday. Mr. Shedd is 80 years old but made the trip from Craftsbury and return on foot.

Frank Dana of Newport, N. H., and Mrs. C. W. Sheaff, of Newcastle, Me., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dana. Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Dana of Lyndonville also spent Sunday here.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hubbard went Saturday to White River Junction where they have been engaged to run the dining hall at the state fair. Mrs. Ezra Martin also went to assist in the dining hall.

Ex-Gov. Bell and family of Walden, who are taking a carriage drive through the county this week, called on friends here yesterday. Mr. Bell spoke at the regular grange meeting last evening.

Coon hunting seems to be a popular sport this week. Monday night three auto loads of hunters went toward Irasburg and last night the same party went to Coventry. They report a glorious time but where are the coons?

Those loafers congregated nearly every night on the steps in front of the fruit store and expectorating freely upon the sidewalk should remember there is a law forbidding spitting on sidewalks and a penalty attached.

F. J. Percival begins work next week as superintendent of the Pillsbury & Baldwin factory. Mr. Percival has had experience in this work both in these shops and elsewhere and should make a good man for the position.

Powell's orchestra will give a series of six dances, one every two weeks during the coming season at Seaver's opera hall. The first dance will be on Friday evening, October 1. Regular tickets will be 75 cents, season tickets $4.00.

E. H. Glazier, C. H. Blood, A. S. Drew, H. V. Drown, H. C. Gay, C. A. Barrows, G. H. Davis, and H. T. Seaver attended the Malta Commandery clambake at Owl's Head on Lake Memphremagog, Friday and report a fine time.

At a meeting held at H. J. Stannard's last evening an orchestra of six pieces was formed. H. C. Potter was elected leader, Maynard Potter, assistant leader, Slayton Lang business manager, Maynard Foster, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. C. C. Baldwin is spending this week visiting her mother in Northfield. Mrs. Baldwin starts next Wednesday with Mr. Baldwin's aunts, Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Northern, for their home in San Francisco, Cal. She will remain until January.

The following letters remain uncalled for at the postoffice September 22; please say advertised when calling for these letters. Louise S. Brown, David Currier, Mrs. M. J. Goode, James H. McGuerny, Geo. Mitchell, Wm. Pike, Daniel Shackett.

Peary and the Pole.

When Commodore Peary walked up to the pole He could not discover the track of a soul Who had ever been out in that region before So said he I have found what I came to explore.

Then he laughed and he yelled As the pole he beheld And he gave it a hug in his glee While a big Polar bear that was lingering there Thought "I guess there's a dinner for me."

But just as he started to write in a book He heard the commotion about Dr. Cook From a wireless message that shot through the air And then—Oh my! Say! did the Commodore swear?

Yes he cursed and he swore While that Polar did roar As if by a terrible blow Then he started off south with alarm in his mouth There was no other way he might go.

Old Commodore Peary sat thinking a spell Like one who has something that hurts him to tell And then from his mouth did the question come forth Am I at the South pole or is it the North?

The pole I've discovered which fact I'll defend But to save my life I can't tell which end. If Cook found the north end as many declare, The south end is mine I am willing to swear.

This tells the story how men seek for glory And not for the good of mankind, If but for the good of the whole neighborhood What matters it who made the "find."

—Dr. E. F. Johnston LL. M.

At a firemen's meeting last evening it was voted to meet next Tuesday evening to decide upon the date of their proposed outing.

Repairs on real estate seem to be quite in order of late. O. A. White is adding a dormer window to the front of his house and shingling the roof.

C. A. Barrows and Dr. J. A. Pearson are treating their houses to coats of paint.

Fr. LeBlanc has added a wide piazza to the front and north end of his house. This is finished entirely in the natural wood and adds much to the appearance of the house. R. P. Webster has painted the tenement house belonging to him across the river from his feed store and the Tower company are painting their feed store block.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church society was held Monday evening at the church parlors.

F. W. Baldwin was elected president; George R. Scott, secretary; S. A. Hunt, treasurer; F. W. Baldwin, A. P. Underwood and Hugh Campbell were elected executive committee and H. P. Cook and J. A. Pearson, auditors. The report of the committee on repairs was read and showed an expenditure of $737.40 on recent repairs.

This with the repairs made by the Ladies' and C. E. societies in the vestry and the purchase of new cushions will amount to fully $1000. All bills were reported paid. The treasurer's report showed a small balance on hand, with some unpaid pledges. The total funds in trust and otherwise amount to about $6500. With repairs all made and paid for, the society is in good circumstances.

The first meeting for the season of the W. C. T. U. was held with Mrs. O. H. Mossman, Tuesday Sept. 14th. Topic, Individual Temperance Work.

Meeting opened as usual with prayer and singing. A letter was read from Mrs. Guild, Superintendent of Rescue Home asking for contributions of clothing, provisions, canned goods etc. and it was voted to send a box in response to the call. Also voted to tax each member 10 cents to pay expenses of Mrs. Davidson as delegate to National convention. Mrs. Geo. Lang and Mrs. Cowles were appointed to act as music committee for the year. A round table talk under the leadership of Mrs. G. H. Davis developed some helpful ideas, but owing to lack of time the reading by Mrs. John McCallan was omitted. Eight members of the Union were present also one visitor.

Through an inadvertence we failed in our report of the home talent entertainments at the opera hall during fair week to make special mention of the work of Mrs. Clara Burrows. Mrs. Burrows gave two long and difficult readings, in one of them being accompanied by strains from the "Prison Song" either sung by Harry Perley or at times softly played on the piano by Mrs. Pillsbury. This was a very taking number but both selections were listened to with closest attention and heartily applauded. In response to an encore Mrs. Burrows gave a short humorous selection. On Thursday night Mrs. Burrows read "Rock me to Sleep" in the rendering of which she was assisted by seven young ladies whom she had given careful training the effect of the reading thus illustrated being most pleasing. Mrs. Burrows who is a graduate of Emerson school of oratory, has often read to appreciative audiences in this her native town, but never has she done better work than on the two evenings of which we speak.
